The MAC reserves the right to award contracts on the basis of the bids submitted or to negotiate with one or more bidders, at its option. In addition to the Commission's right to reject unacceptable bids per section II. F. above, MAC reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive minor irregularities, informalities or discrepancies in the bid documents, and to award the contract to the bidder best meeting the needs of MAC as determined by the Commission. Upon rejection of bids, the Commission may re-advertise or otherwise award the desired concessions.

It is understood that the bid guarantee will be forfeited to the Commission as liquidated damages in the event the undersigned, if awarded the concession, fails to enter into a lease agreement, furnish performance bond, and otherwise comply with the requirements of the aforesaid specifications.

It is further understood, if the undersigned is an unsuccessful bidder, its bid deposit will be returned no later than upon execution of agreement by the successful bidders but in no event later than one hundred eighty (180) days after the date of opening bids. The undersigned bidder is bound by this offer for a period of one hundred eighty (180) days following the dates of opening of bids.
